We have welcomed our new kindergarten families for 2014. The children have met new friends, gained confidence as they farewelled their parents and have explored the variety of activities we have prepared. We have been talking and reading stories about the beach and making a variety of sea animals. One of our special stories was called “There’s a sea in my bedroom” and after reading this story we all had a turn to listen to a shell and see if we could hear the beach.

We are very thankful to all for coming to share our Family BBQ in the garden this past week. It was a wonderful time for children to explore the garden, families to meet each other and to enjoy a sausage cooked by our wonderful school staff.

We have regular visitors coming over to say hello to kindergarten staff and also their siblings during the session. This is a wonderful time to re-connect with past students we have taught and also for the current kindergarten children to say hello to their siblings.

Some of our everyday activities during the session include: time to work in small groups, learn our friend’s names, talk about the routines of our day and enjoy a story are some of our everyday activities during session. Can you believe it all of these activities in one week? It has been a very positive start to our year and we look forward to the year ahead.
