Unit of Inquiry: Celebrations around the World ...
 The students in the Middle School have been learning about celebrations around the world and how they help us to appreciate diversity. By investigating and researching different celebrations they have come to an understanding and appreciation of the significance of being culturally aware, and becoming more sensitive to the differences in others. To conclude the unit, the students planned their own wonderful celebration.

Science ... The students have been exploring the properties and behaviour of heat, and how different materials react to heat. They have conducted experiments and followed a science process of questioning; hypothesising; experimenting; analysing and drawing conclusions from their observations.
